

Sergey Yastrzhembskiy (Italy) achieved his Capra World Slam in December 2009 on a hunt to Spain where he took a Gredos, Southeastern and Ronda ibex along with the Pyrenean and Cantabrian chamois. Sergey is actually up to 19 different species of Capra goats, and he has a feral goat that will go toward his Capra Super 30. We would like to share photos here from his 2009 hunt in Spain and save the others for future use in our SLAM QUEST publication.

1. Dagestan (Eastern) tur (1998) 2. Mid-Asian ibex (2001) 3. Caucasian chamois (2002) 4. Altay ibex (2002) 5. Beceite ibex (2003) 6. Mid-Caucasian tur (2003) 7. Alpine ibex (2005) 8. Bezoar ibex (2006) 9. Balkan chamois (2006) 10. Himalayan tahr (2009) 11. Southeastern ibex (2009) 12. Gredos ibex (2009) 13. Ronda ibex (2009) 14. Pyrenean chamois (2009) 15. Cantabrian chamois (2009) 16. Carpathian chamois (2010) 17. Kri-Kri ibex (2012) 18. Low Tatra chamois (2014) 19. Kri-Kri (hybrid) ibex (2014)

This Gredos ibex was taken in Spain by Sergey Yastrzhembskiy (Italy) in December 2009. He is hard to recognize behind the warm headgear!

In December 2009, Sergey Yastrzhembskiy (Italy) hunted in Spain and was able to collect this Ronda ibex.

Sergey Yastrzhembskiy (Italy) took this Southeastern ibex in December 2009.

This Cantabrian chamois was taken in Spain by Sergey Yastrzhembskiy (Italy) in December 2009.

Sergey Yastrzhembskiy (Italy) took this Pyrenean chamois in Spain during December 2009.