

Leonid Palko (Russia) achieved his Capra World Slam Super 20 on October 23, 2016 on a trip to Karachayevo-Cherkesiya, Russia where he took a Caucasian chamois.

Only two months prior, Leonid hunted in the same area and took a Kuban (Western) tur and he also hunted mid-Caucasian tur at that time in Kabardino-Balkariya, Russia. When Leonid documented these three species, he also sent us a photo of an Armenian mouflon he took in Armenia during June 2016.

Leonid Palko (Russia) achieved his Capra World Slam Super 20 with this Caucasian chamois taken in Karachayevo-Cherkesiya, Russia, October 2016.

This Kuban (Western) tur was taken from Karachayevo-Cherkesiya, Russia by Leonid Palko (Russia) in August 2016 on a hunt booked through ProfiHunt.

In August 2016, Leonid Palko (Russia) took this mid-Caucasian tur from Kabardino-Balkariya, Russia. Leonid was hunting with ProfiHunt.

Leonid Palko (Russia) took this Armenian mouflon from Armenia during June 2016.